FEARS

That the Coronation Festivities

May be a Fizzle

Because of Its Very Slim Attendance.

Only One-Fifth of the Members of the House Ask for Tickets.

The Peers Have Gone to Their Summer Resorts and do Not Want to Return to London.

London, July 22.—London now fears that the coronation will be slimly attended, and that it will almost approach a fizzle. Only one-fifth of the members of the house of commons have asked for tickets, and peers are reported to be at the various summer resorts and do not want to return. The house of nobles has been obliged to send personal letters in order to get a few persons of note, present to make a fair show. There will also be a total absence of special embassies.

HIGH OFFICIAL

Gives Reasons for Hastening Coronation.

Kings Condition More Serious Than is Known.

A Second Operation is Only a Question of a Short Time, and it May Result Fatally.

London, July 22.—A high official has today told your correspondent that the coronation will be hastened because the king's condition is so serious. The operation was far more serious and complicated than any one was led to believe, and revealed diseased conditions involving a large portion of the internal cavity. The operation revealed the immediate danger, and gave a chance for a rally, but the condition is still such that a second operation is only a question of time.

A MAN HUNT

Is in Progress Near Evansville, Indiana.

A Negro Looking for Trouble, Threw a Burning Match Into a Hay Stack.

Evansville, Ind., July 22.—A man is in progress in Warlick county and lynching may follow the capture of the fugitive. Tuesday afternoon Ed. Gaines, a negro, cut the throat of Union Tschoppe, a young farmer and the latter may die. The trouble started as a result of Tschoppe's objecting to the negro lighting a pipe while setting on a hay stack. The negro then deliberately threw the burning match into the hay. Tschoppe extinguished the fire, and drove the negro away with a pitch fork. Gaines then attacked him with a razor, cutting his throat.

CARDINAL GIBBONS

Venerable Prelate of Catholic Church Celebrates 65th Anniversary.

Congratulations Come in from Clergy all Over the Country—Cardinal will Next Year Celebrate His Silver Jubilee.

Baltimore, Md., July 23.—Cardinal Gibbons, who, during the last few weeks, has been called upon to mourn the death of two members of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in America, reached his sixty-eighth birthday today. There was no formal celebration of the event, but during the day messages of congratulation poured in at the archiepiscopal residence from archbishops, bishops and prominent members of the clergy in all parts of the country.

Cardinal Gibbons was born in this city July 23, 1834, of Irish parents. During his boyhood he was taken to Ireland, where he received the elements of a liberal education. On returning to the United States he was determined by his parents to consecrate him to the service of God, and he entered St. Charles College, Maryland, where he graduated with distinction in 1857. Thence he went to St. Mary's Seminary, where, after taking the usual course of theology he was ordained a priest June 4, 1861, by Archbishop Patrick Kenrick.

Father Gibbons was at once assigned to duty, and hard duty at that time, in the city of Baltimore, serving first as an assistant priest at St. Patrick's church. Afterward he was sent as pastor to the then humble and struggling parish of St. Bridget's Canton where he also had to serve old St. Lawrence's church, at Locust Point, and to cross the Patuxent River to do so in a ferry boat, oftentimes in the stormiest weather. On March 17, 1887, he received the red hat of the cardinalate from Pope Leo XIII.

The cardinal shows few signs of his increasing years. His eye is as bright and his step as quick and elastic as twenty years ago. Every day when the weather permits he walks from five to ten miles, and takes great delight in tiring out members of the clergy, one of whom always accompanies him on his long trips through the city and country. Next year the cardinal is to celebrate his silver jubilee and arrangements are already being made to make it the most elaborate event of the kind that has ever been celebrated in this country.

She is under bond to appear in Parkersburg tomorrow to receive her sentence.

Columbus Grove, O., July 23.—Programs for the Putnam county teachers' institute, which opens at Ottawa on Monday, August 11, continuing two weeks, have been completed and will be placed in the mails the latter part of the week. The program is an excellent one throughout and the two weeks' plan this year is something new and the normal training department of special interest. Heretofore, in Putnam county, Superintendent J. W. Huntman, of Miller City, is president of the institute. Miss Margaret Ford, of Ottawa, is secretary, and superintendent W. S. Sackett, of Leipsic, superintendent P. D. Amstutz, of Pandora, and Prof. Herman McDougall, of North Creek, make up the executive committee to whom the teachers owe great praise for the excellent talent secured and the fine program to be placed at their disposal.

MANY MILLIONS

Represented by the Associations Whose Officials are in Session

At Put-in-Bay, Discussing Ways and Means for Betterment of Business—Building and Loan People at Annual Meeting.

Put-in-Bay, O., July 23.—Several hundred million of dollars—every dollar of it the savings of the thrifty wage workers of the United States—were represented in the assembly hall of the Hotel Victory today when the tenth annual convention of the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations was called to order by the national president, George H. Kottmeyer of New Orleans. It is one of the largest conventions in the history of the league. A majority of the delegates are men prominent in the municipal affairs of their respective localities.

The feature of the opening session was the address and report of Hon. Herman F. Cellarius, of Cincinnati, the general secretary, which was listened to with profound attention. Secretary Cellarius said in part:

"A slight increase in the total membership, with a small decrease in the aggregate assets, the showing made by the local building and loan associations of the United States during the past year. There are now in the United States 5,302 local building associations, with a total membership of 1,539,593 and assets amounting to $55,387,960. In most of the states these associations have almost held their own, although the reduction of the interest rate for the past few years has had a tendency to bring back money loaned out by them at higher than existing rates, and associations unable to make desirable loans have returned some of the idle accumulated funds to their stockholders, causing a decrease in their assets. Building and loan association supervisors in a number of states are agreed that the associations were not sufficiently prompt in meeting the reduced interest rate and that, as a result, they have lost some profitable business. This is to be accounted for possibly, under the theory that the associations were desirous of ascertaining if conditions favorable to a reduction were temporary only, and with their usual conservatism, they were reluctant to

Following the report of the secretary, the convention listened to addresses as follows: "The Future of Building Associations: The Tendency to Depart From and the Necessity of Adhering to Fundamental Principles," Seymour Dexter, Elmira, N. Y.; "Why Local Building and Loan Associations Should be Exempt from all Taxation," Julius Stern, Chicago; "The Theoretical versus the Practical," W. A. Whitney, Lawrence, Mass.

MINES WILL NOT OPEN

Say the Anthracite Operators, Until it is a General Opening.

New York, July 23.—Certain of the presidents of the anthracite coal companies who attended yesterday's meeting here at the offices of the Philadelphia & Reading railway, have today authorized the statement that no arrangements have been made to resume mining of anthracite coal at any fixed date. When an attempt to open the mines is made it will be general and not confined, as has been stated, to a few well protected collieries. According to the statement today, operators are of the opinion that the miners will become discouraged after a time and be "willing to return to work in droves." "Then" the statement adds, "operators will reopen all of the mines with the best men they can get."

The body was taken to the family home opposite the First Presbyterian church, where they rested until this afternoon at one o'clock, when the funeral was held from the Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. Jacob Baumgardner officiating. Interment was made in the family lot at the cemetery in Pandora. The family has the sincere sympathy of hosts of friends in this hour of deepest distress.

He was sentenced to a term of thirty days imprisonment in the Toledo work house. He will pay his board there.

Chief Mills returned home at 2 o'clock this morning from Alliance, O., arriving with him Thomas O'Leary, wanted here on a charge of grand larceny. WILD STEER Ridden by the Chief of the Comanches.

Who Came in to Rescue a Friend in Trouble.

Who had Offended the Creeks by Newspaper Paragraphs and was About to be Tarred by a Mob.

Guthrie, O. T., July 23.—Chief Licheetoo, of the Comanche tribe, created a sensation in Tulsa, I. T., recently, by tiding a wild steer on a gallop into Tulsa, in order to rescue his friend, J. B. Dickenson, a white man from a mob. Dickenson is a baker in Tulsa, and he is also a newspaper correspondent. In former years he was a captive in the Comanche tribe, and was befriended by Licheetoo, who is now very old. Recently Dickenson sent various papers accounts of happenings among the Creek Indians. They secured war and feathers and came near murdering him.

Licheetoo and forty braves were visiting nearby Indian tribes and Dickenson managed to get word to Licheetoo, who saved him from the mob.

DISMISSED

The Charge Before the Case was Tried.

Second Chapter of Waynesfield Trouble.

The Members of Company L Have Returned Home Well Pleased With Their Week's Experience in the Camp.

Waynesfield, Ohio, July 23.—Miss Clara Dawson, of near Waynesfield, was arrested Monday and brought here before Judge Van Andt to answer to the charge of stealing, preferred by Dr. Heilman, of Waynesfield. Heilman accused her of entering his room and abstracting $40 from his trousers pocket. Miss Dawson pleaded not guilty but was bound over to court. Yesterday, Dr. Heilman appeared in court and asked that the case be dismissed, which was done accordingly.

Bob Ewing, pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds, was in this city yesterday visiting friends. He has been visiting his parents in the eastern part of the county. Bob has been playing some good ball this season and his friends are pleased with his work, but he seems to be unfortunate in getting poor support. It is also said that there are men under contract with the Reds who would be pleased at his release, but Ewing is able to hold his own.

Although the long talked of cannons have been in possession of the city and the G. A. R. post for some time, neither has been mounted but are lying in the grass just as they were delivered. The city council passed resolutions to have the two for the city mounted but that is as far as the matter has gone. One of these will be placed on the south side and the other on the north side of the city building.

The military boys, Company L, second regiment volunteer infantry, have returned home and are in good health. The Company formed a part of first brigade camp, at Newark, and was under the command of Brigadier General McMaken, who has seen active service and who proved to be an expert commander and instructor. Lieutenant Colonel Hoegner, former captain of Company L, was field officer Saturday, and Captain Layton was officer of the day, Sunday. The boys all enjoyed themselves at camp and say it is the best encampment in which they ever took part. They experienced considerable rainy weather but this did not bother them, the ground being a sandy nature, well drained and covered with blue grass. They have all resumed their regular employment.

William T. Shaffer and wife, who were married two weeks ago and who have since been spending their honeymoon traveling, returned home last night and are now at home to friends. They were treated to an old fashioned belting last night at which the boys at least enjoyed themselves. William is the popular proprietor of the Shaffer grocery.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty, of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes and he suffered terribly. His malady was Yellow Jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. LAW POINTS.

A druggist may be convicted of maintaining a liquor nuisance, though having a permit to sell liquor, holds the supreme court of Kansas.

The giving of a new note for an existing indebtedness will not of itself release collateral security held for payment of such indebtedness, holds the supreme court of Nebraska.

A child of divorced parents is a ward of the court and must not be removed from the state by the parent to whom the court has awarded the custody, holds the appellate court of Illinois.

A reservation of title in a conditional sale of goods is valid as between the parties and those succeeding to their rights, with knowledge of such reservation, either personally or from the records.

A decree or order for alimony in a divorce proceeding is not a debt within the meaning of that term as used in the constitution prohibiting imprisonment for debt, holds the supreme court of Washington.

A bequest in a will for the purchase of books on spiritualism, to be free to all, is held by the court of chancery of New Jersey in the case of Jones versus Warford (50 Atl. Rep. 189) to be a charitable gift which a court of equity will enforce.

How They Differed.

During the last term of the late Zeb Vance in the United States senate his brother, Robert Vance, was elected to represent the Asheville (N. C.) district in the lower branch of congress. One Sunday morning soon after Robert made his appearance in Washington a friend asked the senator if he and Robert agreed on the subject of religion as well as they did on politics.

"No," replied the senator; "Bob is a Methodist and believes in falling from grace, but never falls, while I am a Presbyterian and don't believe in falling from grace, but am all the time falling."—New York Times.

Good Reason For Selling.

"I notice," said the man who had called in answer to an advertisement, "you state that you wish to sell out this business and can give good reason for doing so. May I ask what is your reason?"

"Certainly," answered the other man. "The reason why I want to sell out this business is that I'm not making any money at it."—Chicago Tribune.

The Same Tongue.

"Hi, say, you know," said the cockney addressing the Bowery boy, "we can't be brothers; we have to be brothers. We speak the same language, you know."

"Well, tell, Holler for an interpreter. You're wunny. I seen you batten your eye. Git proper; git proper!"—Chicago Record-Herald.

NECESSITY OF SLUMBER.

Death by Sleeplessness a Chinese Punishment.

"A person absolutely without sleep for nine days will die," says a writer in Almslee's. "Sufferers from insomnia sometimes maintain that they have gone for weeks without sleeping, but it has been proved that they do sleep without being aware of it. At a certain point sleep is inevitable, no matter what the bodily condition, the alternative being death. Prisoners have slept on the rack of the inquisition. And the Chinese found that only the greatest ingenuity and vigilance could carry out a sentence of death by sleeplessness. This mode of capital punishment was long in vogue in China and is said to be so today, while as a form of torture deprivation of sleep is considered one of the most efficacious weapons in the Chinese judicial arsenal. In some cases the prisoner is kept in a cage too small to stand up or lie down in and constantly prodded with a sharp rod, death by starvation, also a Chinese punitive method, is a slower process and therefore, to appeal to the oriental mind if it were not that death by sleeplessness is thought so much more painful. In the latter case the brain is the first affected of all the organs of the body, while in case of starvation the brain longest retains its normal weight and character.

"A corresponding mode of taming wild elephants is said to be depriving the animals of sleep when first caught. In a few days they become comparatively spiritless and harmless. The brain of the elephant is held to be more highly developed than that of any other wild animal, but of course as compared with a human brain can be easily fatigued by new impressions and so made very dependent on sleep. The wild elephant in his native jungle, however, is said to sleep very little—a further point for the theory of the universal force of sleep to intelligence. A man taken out of his habitat and placed in conditions which he never could have imagined—if transported to Mars, say—would doubtless need an extraordinary amount of sleep at first. There is the almost parallel case of a German boy, Casper Hansen, who up to the age of eighteen was kept in one room where he had no intercourse with human beings or sight of any natural object, not even the sky. At eighteen he was brought to Nuremberg and abandoned in the street. For the first few months of his life among men he slept almost constantly and so soundly that it was very hard to wake him."

The Sense of Feeling.

Some of our most important organs—for instance, the heart, the brain and the lungs—are, strange to say, quite insensible to touch, thus showing that not only are nerves necessary for the sensation, but also the special end organs. The curious fact was noticed with the greatest astonishment by Harvey, who, while treating a patient for an abscess that caused a large cavity in his side, found that when he put his fingers into the cavity he could actually take hold of the heart without the patient being in the least aware of what he was doing. This so interested Harvey that he brought King Charles I. to the man's bedside that "the night himself beheld and touch so extraordinary a thing."

In certain operations a piece of skin is removed from the forehead to the nose, and it is stated that the patient, oddly enough, feels as if the new nasal part were still in his forehead and may have a headache in his nose. —Chambers' Journal.

In the Same Situation.

A funny story is told about a physician at Monroe City. A resident of the town set out shade trees for the doctor. A short time later the physician was called to attend the mother-in-law of the man who had set out the trees. The old lady died, and the physician presented his bill. After paying it, the citizen thought of the trees and made out and presented a bill for them. "But the trees died," protested the doctor. "So did my mother-in-law," retorted the other man. The doctor paid the bill.—Kansas City Journal.

Settling the "Tip" Question.

The awkward question of the tip was solved by a big New Englander from the state of Maine who was dining in a London restaurant the other evening. Having paid his bill, he was informed by the waiter that what he had paid did "not include the waiter."

"Wait!" said the stranger, "I ate no waiter, did I?"

And as he looked quite ready to do so on any further provocation the subject was dropped.—London Chronicle.

The Dog That Sings and His Master.

"Billingsley has taught his dog to sing."

"Does he sing well?"

"He sings as well as Billingsley could teach him."

"I never heard Billingsley. Is he a good singer?"

"Well, the dog has been shot at seven times."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

AFTERNOON NAPS.

Children Need Them Long After They Have Left Babyhood.

"He's getting entirely too big for his daytime naps," said an unwise mother recently, who announced in the hearing of the child that "little men ought to break themselves of such babyish habits." And the poor little eyes were heavy with sleep at the time, as it was the time for the regular afternoon nap to which he had been accustomed.

It was a surprise to learn that any mother would consider it a duty to plan the "breaking up" of the little folks' naps. The majority of mothers find that their little ones outgrow the habit much earlier than is desirable, and it certainly is wise to encourage the practice just as long as the restless youngsters show the least sign of becoming tired after their morning's play.

The two or three hours during the day when the little ones can be persuaded to take a nap are very refreshing portions of the day to the average mother, and a wise mother will not break her little ones of taking daytime naps at all, but let them enjoy them just as long as they will, even until they are old enough to go to school, although they will probably object to the daytime naps some time before that period.

Mothers seldom realize how many days these little feet take during the day—these little feet that never seem to grow tired because their owners are so very busy that they don't have time to think whether they are tired or not. But notwithstanding this, they often need a rest, and many times when the little ones are called across they are only tired, and a good, refreshing nap would set them all right again.

But, then, if they have a nap during the day they will not want to go to bed early at night, some one may object, but the daytime nap need never interfere with the regular bedtime if the mother manages properly. Children are very much the creatures of habit, and if they are encouraged to take an afternoon nap at a regular time and then go to bed at a certain hour each night they will have little difficulty about "weeding the drowsy goat."

The little ones need plenty of sleep and if they will not sleep longer than is good for them. A little enforced quiet, even when the afternoon nap has been outgrown, will benefit the restless child as well as the over-taxed mother.

Change in Rest.

Concentration and system are excellent qualities, especially in work. But overconcentration and over-eagerness in clinging to one settled rule tell on the nerves in the long run. Relaxation is the great principle that physicians are trying to teach women nowadays.

Recreation need not always consist of social diversion, of the theater or of a shopping trip, although all are excellent in their way. But people must vary their routine. Men in business life usually have this variety, but when women out of ten, especially house-keeping women, will go through the same round of duties and pleasures 365 days in the year.

If you begin to suffer from the depression, the despondency, that so often is the precursor of nervous breakdown, seek a change of some sort. Do something that you are not accustomed to do. Get a flood of new thoughts and new ideas percolating through your mind, and before you know it you will be laughing at the idea of despondency from imagined illness or any other cause.

LOST

Is the Lad Taken From the Orphans Home

Provided with a Good Home in South Lima

Police have Made a Deigent Search for Him Without Avail.

Sad News that was Received this Morning by Charles Mooney
of East Kibby Street.

Some time ago Mrs. Marion Levinson, of south Elizabeth street, took a young lad named Swallow from the Allen county Children's home. The lad intended to rear the boy, and was making encouraging progress when the child mysteriously disappeared yesterday afternoon. No trace of him has yet been found. Police officer Vanman is searching for the youth.
The theory is gaining credence that the youngster's mother, who resides at Dayton, and who has been here staying lately, may have persuaded the child to accompany her.

Arranged by Mrs. C. F. Scott, of Holmes avenue, whose long and unaccounted for absence caused her husband much disquietude, was finally located by the police today in south Lima. The husband and wife made an amiable settlement of their difficulties and by mutual consent Mrs. Scott went to Ohio City, Pa., where she will reside in the future.

Interesting Drawing.
At the south Lima fire department
last night, the drawing for the carpeted beds of the late Dennis Dehl was held. Number 172 is the one that won the prize.

Dangerously Ill.
Charles Mooney, of east Kibby street, received a committal order this morning advising him of the serious illness of his wife who is residing at
eral weeks ago for a visit with friends in the southern states. During the journey she has been stricken twice by alarming sickness.

To the Encampment.
An unusually large number of south
Lima persons are preparing to attend the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Washington.
A. C. Special cars have been chartered and a delightful trip is anticipated.

Will Move.
J. R. Ruckstrow will move his store from its present location to another corner the center of the city.

Mrs. Thomas Staver will also locate in another part of town.
George Fisher will occupy his new location within a few days.

Dinner Party.
Mr. and Mrs. Reuben White, of south Central avenue, entertained is due to the retention in the system of Uric Acid or other inflammatory poisons which find their way into the blood, and are forced by the circulation through the glands and pores of the skin, causing it to burn like fire, and the incessant itching allows no rest night or day. Eczema appears in a great many different forms, beginning frequently as a mere redness of the skin, followed by little blisters or pimples, from which a clear or straw colored matter oozes, forming into sores, scales or scabs; this is weeping Eczema, commonly called Salt Rheum. These acid poisons sometimes dry up the natural oils and the skin becomes hard and dry, often cracking and bleeding and causing intense pain and fearful itching. This form of Eczema is known as Tetter, and oftenest attacks the hands and feet. Unsightly eruptions in the shape of pimples and blackheads break out upon the face, neck and shoulders as a result of polluted blood, and this humiliating disease is called Acne. Local remedies afford but scant relief. The blood and system being saturated with the poison, the disease cannot be reached with washes, salves, powders or other local applications. S. S. S. restores the deteriorated blood to its normal condition, stimulates the sluggish organs, and all the waste matter is eliminated through the proper channels. S. S. S. makes the blood rich and strong, and under its tonic and invigorating effects the general health improves, and the skin becomes soft and smooth again.

WHERE DOES THE MONEY GO?

The slot machines in Lima are still running in every place in this wide open town where the man with the contract sees fit to place them.

Up to the present moment no statement has been made as to the name of the fund into which is placed the money which he pays for the privilege of carrying on the business here.

Some idea of the amount of money which goes into these slot machines daily may be had from the fact that in the little town of Lake View a few days ago one of them was opened to see how much had been collected during the day and the tidy sum of $37.00 was found there.

And this was in a small village. The discovery of how much money it cost to have those gambling boxes in the town so incensed the people that they arose in their indignation and compelled that mayor to cut out the graft and order the machines out of the village.

If one will take a pencil and figure a bit they can see how much it costs the people of Lima to have these machines running in this city. Suppose there are 50 slot machines in Lima and they do as much business each, daily, as the same sort of machine did in the little village of Lake View. That would mean a daily collection of $180 per day. Now multiply this by 365, for they run every day alike in this wide open town, under Mayor Rogers' benign rule, and you get $66,300.

The magnitude of the sum is appalling, isn't it? A man can well afford to pay $500 a month for the privilege of doing a business of that magnitude, can't he?

BUT WHAT BECOMES OF THE MONEY HE PAYS FOR THE PRIVILEGE? WHAT IS THE NAME OF THE FUND INTO WHICH IT IS PLACED?

SOME TRUST FIGURES.

Mr. Forth, chief of the division of manufactures of the census bureau, reports that during the census year, the value of the product of all manufacturing establishments in the United States was something more than thirteen billions of dollars and that the value of the product of concerns known as trusts was only $1,667,351,100, or 12.8 per cent of the whole. Mr. North states that he applies the name "trust" for the purposes of the census to the combinations of once independent establishments which have been brought together in corporations under one management. His figures of trust products for the year 1900 may be correct, but it is evident that they would have to be greatly enlarged to meet present conditions. The United States Steel Corporation is clearly a trust according to the definition laid down by Mr. North, but the value of that particular combine as certified by its president, Mr. Schwab, under oath in the legal proceedings pending in New Jersey, is $1,400,291,100 against $1,667,351,100 estimated by Mr. North to be the value of all the trusts in the United States. So far as big figures are concerned there is not much difference in North's figures for the whole country and those of President Schwab for the United States Steel Corporation, and moreover the latter has said that his figures make no allowance for the good will and established business and the valued patents of the steel trust.

The Pittsburgh Post very pertinently remarks that it would be interesting to know to what extent the properties listed by Mr. Schwab at a billion and a half of dollars compares with their value before the inflation process was adopted by the trust. The Post adds: "But inflation seems to have paid, and is resting on a solid basis at this time, with the immensity of business doing, for Mr. Schwab puts the orders actually received or in process of filling at $150,000,000, which will keep the plants fully occupied until after the 1st of January, assuring a net profit, he says, of $60,000,000. The present net earning capacity of the steel company's plants is in Mr. Schwab's opinion in excess of $140,000,000 a year. For the first six months of 1902 they were $64, 407,000. The total fixed charges of the steel company for interest and bond sinking funds is stated to be $31,737,000, to provide which the company, Mr. Schwab says, is now earning $140,000,000 a year, leaving the presumption is, considerably over a hundred millions of dollars to be applied to dividends on the stock."—New Orleans States.

The soliciting committee on the Smead-Baxter Boiler company is at work today among the business men procuring subscriptions to assist in securing this valuable plant for Lima. They are making good headway and have received some excellent subscriptions. These gentlemen are donating their services for the good of the cause and should be given all the encouragement possible. Where it is practicable they should not be asked to return to secure a subscription, for that means a further consumption of the time that they are donating to the city. Give them the subscription promptly and send them on their way rejoicing.

CREMATED.

Horrible Fate That Befel Two Children.

The Frantic Efforts of the Mother Were Futile,

And She Narrowly Escaped With Her Life While Rescuing Her Infant Which Was Badly Burned.

Cumberland, Md., July 22.—Two children of W. H. Feather, of Pinto, were cremated in a fire that burned down the Feather's home early this morning. The dead children were 6 and 5 years old respectively. Another child, an infant, was badly burned while Mrs. Feather narrowly escaped with her life after a frantic effort to save her children. The fire started through the explosion of a gasoline stove.

ALLOWANCE

Was Reduced and the Young Man Suicided.

Chicago, July 23.—Because his father Philip Henrici, a wealthy restaurateur, and caterer, had denied him pocket money on the ground that he was becoming too extravagant, Carl Arthur Henrici, aged 19, shot and killed himself in his room in Henrici mansion this morning. The boy had an ungovernable temper and had frequently threatened to kill himself because his allowance had been cut down.

AUTHORS' BLUNDERS.

Some Mistakes in Which the Moon, Sun and Wind Figure.

The moon proves a terrible pitfall to most writers. Wilkie Collins once performed the marvelous feat of making it rise in the west. Rider Haggard, in "King Solomon's Mines," relies for the effective rendering of one of his most thrilling scenes upon an eclipse of the new moon.

Coleridge placed a star between the horns of the crescent moon, forgetting that to be visible in such a position the star would have to be between the earth and the moon or, say, 230,000 miles away only.

Next to the moon perhaps the sun is responsible for more glaring errors than any single concrete cause. At the beginning of a certain famous novel, the title of which a few years back was in everybody's mouth, an invalid character's room was said to have been lighted by one window looking directly toward the east. Yet at the end of the book, when the invalid dies, the author, wishing to make him depart this life in a flood of glory, suffuses this eastern windowed room with "the red glare of the setting sun."

Kingsley, too, made one of his heroes row out into the eastern ocean after the setting sun. But even this glaring absurdity has been capped. In a novel published by a well known firm there occurs the following passage, the scene being laid on board a big sailing ship: "How's the wind?" asked the skipper. "East-northeast," replied the mate, glancing at the masthead pennant, which was streaming blithely in the direction indicated." So that in the world, according to novelists, we should not only find the sun setting in the east, but pennants would "stream" against the direction of the prevailing wind.

A TOPSY TURVY ROOM.

A Frenchman Who Plays Practical Jokes on His Guests.

A "topsy turvy room," writes a correspondent, not ill-named, but actually so built, existed near Paris some years ago and may still exist. One who saw it thus describes it and the use to which it was put: "I was the guest of the owner of the house," he says, "from Saturday to Monday. He was a bachelor, very convivial in his tastes, and we were a very jolly party of men. When we woke up, about 2 o'clock on the Sunday morning, one of our number, sound asleep on the couch in the billiard room, was carried out like a log by a couple of servants. My host gave me a solemn wink and told me that if a sudden summons came I was to rush from my bedroom or else I might miss a sight worth seeing. I wanted nothing but sleep and was relieved when the summons came to find that it was broad daylight.

"Tawny, I followed the valet and found myself, with four others, silently peeping through little holes in the wall. The scene was absurd, ridiculous. A dazed man slowly waking to full consciousness was lying on a plastered floor, looking up in horror at a carpeted ceiling. Two heavy couches, an easy chair, chairs and tables securely fastened stared down at him from above. The man's eyes at last rested on a flowerpot directly over his head, from which a fading rose, apparently real, was blooming. He gave a cry and, rolling over, grasped with frenzied hands the stem of the chandelier, which came up through the floor. The host burst into the room, with a loud laugh. 'They all do it,' he cried. 'They fear they will fall up to the ceiling.'"

"Sit" and "Set."
Some one who believes in teaching by example has concocted a lesson in the use of two little words which have been a source of mortification and trouble to many well meaning persons.

A man or woman either can set a hen, although they cannot sit her; neither can they set on her, although the hen might sit on them by the hour if they would allow it.

A man cannot set on the wash bench, but he could set the basin on it, and neither the basin nor the grammarians would object.

He could sit on the dog's tail if the dog were willing or he might set his foot on it. But if he should set on the aforesaid tail or sit his foot there the grammarians as well as the dog would howl, metaphorically at least.

And yet the man might set the tail aside and then sit down and be assailed neither by the dog nor by the grammarians.

LOOPING THE LOOP.

Diavolo's Famous Act a Feature of Forepaugh-Sells Circus.

Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' united shows are exploiting a feature this season which eclipses in point of sheer daring anything ever attempted in any arena. It is the famous Diavolo in "his looping the loop" on a bicycle, an act which created the profoundest sensation in New York city and Philadelphia, and elicited more praise and was given more space in the Metropolitan press than any single act ever presented to the public.

Looping the loop is described as danger deriding and death defying, which is as near correct as words can make it. From the extreme height of the canvas dome Diavolo makes a thrilling descent down the narrow plane on a bicycle and the momentum thus gained carries him around the loop at a terrific rate of speed. At the top of the loop both rider and wheel are upside down and going at the rate of 40 miles an hour. It is a hair-raising act and one that all should see, as it gives a practical demonstration of the first scientific lesson of youth—the swinging in a circle of a bucket full of water without spilling. The date of the show here is Thursday, August 7.

Miss A. Brady, Corresponding Secretary Illinois Woman's Alliance, writes from 225 Indiana Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

"Last year from continued strain in literary work I became very much exhausted, my nerves seemed to give way, and I had backache, headache and serious indigestion.

"One of my friends suggested that I try Peruna. It certainly acted like magic on my system.

"Within ten days I felt new life and health given me, and by taking an occasional dose off and on when I feel extra tired, I keep my system in perfect order."—MISS A. BRADY.

Mrs. Fanny Klavatsch, of Summitville, N. Y., writes as follows:

"For three months I suffered with pain in the back and in the region of the kidneys and a dull pressing sensation in the head, and other symptoms of indigestion.

"After taking two bottles of Peruna I am entirely well, better than I ever was."—Mrs. Fanny Klavatsch.

AIR LINE

From the South Atlantic Seaboard

To the Great Lakes Has Been Made Possible

By Connection of Detroit Southern With the Ohio River and Charleston Railroad—Other Railroad News.

By a transaction practically closed by the Union Trust Co. of Baltimore an air line from the South Atlantic seaboard to the great lakes is made possible. The company has arranged to finance the extension of the Ohio River & Charleston road from the West Virginia coal fields to Lincoln, N. C.

This road will be extended to Iron ton, O. where connection will be made with the Detroit Southern. At Lincoln the road will connect with the Seaboard Air line with which company close agreements for the interchange of traffic have been made.

The line will be the shortest from the coal fields of West Virginia to the sea.

Still After Scalpers. That the railroads are determined to further the crusade against the ticket scalpers is shown by the report from Buffalo, N. Y. that three men were sentenced to two years imprisonment in the penitentiary on the charge of altering and changing local tickets on the New York Central. The tickets were originally sold from Buffalo to Buffalo, N. Y. but were so altered as to read from Buffalo to New York.

Circulars have been sent to all passengers read through the company's despatch in the morning and the tickets were to be changed to the proper rate. It is said that the scalpers are still doing business.

FARM GARDEN

HAYING TOOLS.

"Go-Devil" For Hauling Stack Protectors Used on an Alfalfa Farm.

The implement here shown for hauling hay from the window to the stack is described by an Ohio Farmer correspondent as follows. The name it goes by here is the "go-devil." To make one get three joists 8 inches wide and 12 feet long, four scantlings 2 by 4; cut the 2 by 4 in different lengths from four to seven feet long; take seven of these pieces and sharpen one end so that they will pass under the hay and not catch in the ground; lay one of the twelve foot pieces down for the head.

"GO-DEVIL" FOR HAULING HAY.

cut two pieces one foot long and lay one at each end of the long joist. Then lay on the seven teeth, placing the long one in the middle and the shortest ones at the end, then the others between the middle and the end ones. Then fit pieces from the eight inch joist between the teeth as tight as possible, then lay the other joist on top of the teeth; bore holes through the upper and lower joist and the teeth; put good stout bolts through them and the teeth.

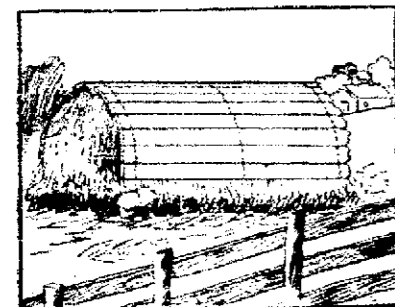

At the end, outside of the teeth, shove a collar round so that a chain can work loose on it and not slip off the end. Bore a few two inch holes in the head and put in stakes to prevent the hay slipping off behind. Fasten a chain or rope ten feet long to each end; then a horse to each end; let a boy ride each horse, go to the end of the window; have a man to stand on the "go-devil" to manage it; start the horses along the window until you get a load; then draw it to the stack; turn the horses and pull it backward until it is clear of the load.

Of the second arrangement here figured another correspondent of the Journal mentioned says:

Alfalfa hay will not turn the rain, no matter how well topped out a stack may be. Where alfalfa hay is raised extensively it is necessary to cover the stacks in some way or to top them out with some kind of hay or grass that will shed the rain. We recently saw a stack cover used on an alfalfa farm which the owner said was equal in keeping the hay to storing in a barn or mow.

The covers are made of ten inch boards in sections six, eight, ten or twelve feet long, as suits the purpose and convenience. The boards are laid, beginning at the top of the stack, so that the upper overlaps the one just below, and all are held in place by being stapled to pieces of No. 12 smooth wire, one wire within a few inches of the ends of the boards and as many between as may be thought necessary. With the shorter sections the end wires are sufficient. These wires go on the outside of the boards and are left long enough at the four corners to fasten on a weight to keep the cover in place.

The use of weights is much better than staking down, as the settling of the stacks will not cause the roof to become less solidly in place. Painting the boards will preserve them, and if rolled up and stored in the dry or laid on logs to keep from getting damp when not in use they will last for years. In taking down a stack but one section need be removed at a time, thus exposing but a small portion of the stack. In getting the stack ready for putting on the cover do not put out with a high center, but put on only a well rounded top.

The Good Feeder.

Every part of the body of an ideal beef animal shows quality. It is this that tells the farmer whether a steer with a good form will prove a profitable feeder. It tells the butcher whether the animal will kill well. This is a point that cannot be overlooked and is difficult to describe. Lack of it shows in a coarse, fleshy head, in a thick, heavy throat and a rough, uneven shoulder. Coarse, heavy bones and a loose jointed appearance generally will show the undesirable feeder, rough flesh, "rice" and "patches" the undesirable feeder. The ideal animal handles well. The flesh is mellow and firm, showing a proper mixture of fat and lean. The skin is loose, but not superfluous, mellow and moderately thick, covered with a plentiful growth of hair. Such an animal usually weighs 1,500 pounds at twenty-four to thirty months.

SOY BEANS.

Why They Sometimes Disappoint Farmers at Their First Trial.

Soy beans should never be sown until the soil is thoroughly warm. They are hot weather plants. Immediately after planting corn is generally a good time to put the seeds in the ground. If planted for seed, sow with a grain drill, stopping up the holes so as to make rows about thirty-two inches apart. When grown for hay or soil, they may be drilled like wheat, using about five pecks of seed to the acre, but they are vigorous plants, and even for hay better results will generally be obtained by giving them more room. They may be cultivated with a weeder or one horse cultivator at the outset. Later they cover the ground and take care of themselves until ready to cut. The cutting can be done with a special bean harvester if the soil is soft enough to permit or with an ordinary mower, though it should be remembered that the stems become tough and hard to cut as the plant ripens, and on this account it is well not to delay the harvest longer than is necessary. For hay the plants may be cut soon after they begin to blossom; for silage as soon as the pods are developed and before they are ripe. If grown for seed, it is well to harvest as soon as the seeds are ripe and before the pods dry out and begin to split.

Farmers are liable to make the mistake of assuming from a first year's experience that the soy bean will not develop tubercles on their land. In 1900 four varieties were grown in our forage plots, and all made a fine growth. But none of the plants developed tubercles. In the spring of 1901 three of these plots were planted with seed gathered from them in the fall of 1900. The fourth plot was some distance away in 1900, and it was decided to plant seeds obtained from it next to the other three. The plot chosen for this seed bore in 1900 an imperfect stand of blue lupines. To my surprise, the plants in the three plots that had borne soy beans in 1900 produced tubercles in 1901 in large numbers, while on those of the third plot, which, so

SOY BEAN ROOTS SHOWING TUBERCLES. As far as known, had never before borne soy beans, not a single tubercle was to be found.

Just why the tubercles should not appear the first year and should appear in large numbers the second is not at present easy to explain, but the fact is important as offering an explanation of the disappointment which some farmers experience with the plant. Planting a second season on the same land appears to be necessary to get the soy bean at work as a nitrogen fixer. In soils deficient in combined nitrogen the crop is at first likely to languish because of failure to develop root nodules.

The nodules can be grown artificially in the first season. It was demonstrated in our plots in 1901 that the tubercles can be grown in great numbers on the roots of soy beans by the use of pure cultures of the tubercle bacteria.—H. Gorman, Kentucky Station.

The "White Faces" on the Range.

As a breed the long specialization of the Herefords for beef production has operated to give them a less general distribution than the Shorthorns, but the strength of the breed lies in this very fact. Its value for grazing purposes and for prime beef production commands attention. The close uniformity of type is also noteworthy. Though among the first breeds to be introduced Herefords were little known in the United States until the opening of the range country. The impetus which this gave the cattle trade brought them into prominence, and beginning about the year 1880 a rapid growth has put the white faces second in point of numbers in this country and almost supreme on the range.

News and Notes.

If grapes are soaked the latter part of July, they may remain on the vines until freezing weather and will be cleaner and finer flavored, says an advocate of the practice.

The national farmers' congress will be held at Macon, Ga., Oct. 7-10.

Big crops of both wheat and corn, if conditions continue favorable, are now the talk.

The live stock market continues strong. Angora goats stand dry weather well.

Baling hay directly from the window appears to be a growing practice in dry regions of the west and southwest.

The soil is the farmer's bank, and plant food represents his deposits therein.

Continued cold weather and heavy rains in June have severely damaged the grain and fruit crops of France, Germany and Austria.

days in bed with intense pain and suffering. I was under the physicians' care for over a year without any relief, when my attention was called to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by several of our Mormon women who had been cured through its use. I began its systematic use and improved gradually in health, and after the use of six bottles my health was completely restored, and for over two years I have had neither ache or pain. You have a truly wonderful remedy for women. Very sincerely yours, Mrs. HULDA JAKEMAN, Salt Lake City, Utah.

SPEAK OUT.

The Searchlight of Publicity is Pleasing Lima People.

Publicity is what the people want. Let the public speak on the subject. There has been too much claim—too little proof.

There is only one kind of proof for a Lima citizen: The experience of people we know. When friends and neighbors endorse. No question about such evidence. This kind of proof backs every box of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is a case of it:

Mrs. Jno. Nierengartner, of 712 West Elm street, says: "I suffered from dull heavy pains through my kidneys, and the secretions were highly colored, irregular and deposited a heavy sediment. I could not rest comfortably at night and became tired and sore from lying in one position; I took medicine but the results were unsatisfactory. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and recommended by Lima people, I procured the remedy at W. M. McVillie's drug store and used it. Although I only took one box, the benefits I received were so great that I have no hesitation in recommending the pills to others.

For sale by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life, I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me." For sale by Wm. M. SHEEP FEEDING.

Platting Western Workers on Grass and Grain For Summer Market.

Farmers throughout the central states annually feed and fatten for market thousands of sheep. During the past decade a great many farmers have adopted the policy of purchasing western lambs and yearlings during the months of September, October, November and December with the intention of feeding them from 60 to 120 days, depending upon the condition of lambs, markets, etc., and then selling them at an advance in price sufficient to return a nice profit on the investment.

Many sheep feeders claim that one year with another when sheep or lambs are fed on grain and hay that the feeder must have a margin of at least 1 per cent per pound between the buying and selling price to warrant a profit. A careful study of the cost of producing gains on sheep and lambs at this and other stations would indicate that a margin of 1 cent per pound between the buying and selling price is not always necessary.

In summarizing the results of five trials at Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan stations where corn and hay were used, valuing hay at $8 per ton and corn at 33 cents per bushel, each pound of gain was made at a cost of 4 1/2 cents. At this station gains have been made on grass and corn at a cost of less than 2 cents per pound, in which instance the sheep could have been sold without any advance over the buying price and a nice profit realized.

When feed is low in price, the feeder can work on a small margin, and vice versa. Lambs can be handled on a much closer margin than yearlings or older sheep, due to the fact that the younger the animal the better it can utilize its feed. Thus more economical gains are made. More economical gains can also be made during the summer months on grass alone and grass and grain than can be made during the fall and winter months on grain and hay.

A careful study of the markets during the past few years will reveal the fact that sheep and lambs are usually lower in price during the latter part of April and the first of May than they are during the early part of July, because what is commonly known as "grass stock" arrives on the market. This is due to the fact that most of the western lambs are marketed during the month of April and the early part of May. Thus there is usually a period from six to eight weeks' duration when good sheep are at a premium, as the native lambs do not usually arrive before the middle of July or early in August. This is a factor which the feeder should consider, but sometimes a heavy rain will cause a slump in prices when the lambs are in the market and the feeder can take advantage of this and purchase at a price which will warrant the feeder shipping them later to the farm for a few days, during which time they will not only increase in weight, but also in value per pound. W. J. Kennedy, Iowa Station.

NOTED WAR MESSENGER.

Stories of the Late James J. Dunigan's Narrow Escapes.

Nearly half a century ago, when a small boy, the late James J. Dunigan, one of the oldest employees of the Western Union Telegraph company, went to work for the Western Union as a messenger, says the New York Herald. At the outbreak of the civil war a few years later, he distinguished himself by carrying dispatches for the government, risking his life on several occasions in delivering war orders to the army posts in and around New York.

Thrilling stories are told of "Old Jim's" experiences in braving death while conveying dispatches to the Union commanders and of his narrow escapes from falling into the hands of Confederate spies, who infected the city during those stirring days. Although only a lad, the Western Union placed great confidence in Jim, and when there was hazardous work to be performed he was generally the messenger selected. He was known personally by many military commanders, who admired the lad for his fearlessness and daring. Nothing daunted him, and the more risk attached to a job the better Jim liked it. Two young men went to the front with the Union troops, the lad rendered as valiant service for the cause as any soldier.

Constantly Jim risked his life, and as the first few months of the great struggle rolled on his danger increased. Although very young, the Confederate spies soon realized that they had a dangerous foe in the lad, for once handed a dispatch to convey to any of the commanders he never returned without delivering it.

Probably the most exciting experience Jim ever had was in the winter of 1862, when he delivered a message to the commander on Governors island. The bay was frozen over, and a terrific storm had broken the wires from the city to the island. Navigation was impeded, and the only possible way to get to the island was by crossing on the ice floes.

When Jim was handed the message for the Union commander, he set out to deliver it. With a sole companion, John Yondale, he crawled over the ice from the Battery to Governors island and handed the important dispatch to the colonel commanding. Both Jim and Yondale were exhausted when they were landed up on the island and in such a state that they had to be taken to the military hospital.

During the thrilling trip over the ice floes they were tried on by soldiers of the island, who thought they were spies attempting to get into a Union post. Yondale was shot through the right hand and rendered unconscious, but Jim, with the bullets whizzing past his head, supported and half carried his companion over the ice until they were rescued from death by the soldiers.

THE JOCKEY CLUB

Triumphs and the Races Prove a Big Success.

Once More the Lima Track Comes in for a State Record, Taking a Quarter of a Second Off of the Mile Run.

There is no questioning the fact that Lima people never weary of amusement. A week of carnival, a week of harness races and now four days with the runners have followed with scarcely a breathing spell and yet the crowds come and go with the same spirit of patronage that marked the beginning.

The introduction of an exclusive running meet was determined on as a test of its popularity and if the first day's attendance is a forerunner of what the week is to be, the Lima jockey club may as well elect permanent officers and get ready to do business every year. The affair did not begin with a free day, as was the case with last week's trotting and pacing meeting, and yet the crowd was equally as large as on last Tuesday. There was no charge for ladies, and the grand stand will be free to them all week, an admission of 25 cents being charged at the gate. The number present yesterday is an indication that the men are not the only ones who entertain at the races.

There were four separate events on yesterday's card one of which required two heats, and they were all good. In only one instance was there a suspension of strong arm racing, but if Amy Lee was chased to the wire unchallenged, it was done so cleverly that the judges were unable to detect the manipulation.

It was a day for the favorites, three out of four finishes as played, but Athale in the five-eighths mile, to the surprise of the bookmakers at least, failed to even get a place and finished well back among the "also rans." It was this fact that convinced the suspicious ones that the race was not won strictly on its merits, but if it was Athale's doings certainly Oricius had no part in the supposed plot, as the black gelding had wings on his feet and used them all the way home.

The Lima half-mile track already holds several records made by trotters and pacers, and the pleasing announcement was made yesterday after the finish of the Lima House one mile derby that the state record had been broken. A quarter of a second was chopped off of the previous time, Tom Cure winning in 1:13 3/4, and could have made it a second faster if there had been more thunder behind him.

Half Mile Dash.

Starter Robbins has abundance of patience, but it was sorely taxed in the effort to get the first bunch of eight away. Newton Bell, owned by C. H. Chappell, was the center of attraction during the delay and is entitled to the premium in the jumping class. Her coats, plunges, bucks and sudden dashes bred excitement and nervousness among the other horses and she finally broke for it and went the half mile alone and unattended. After a score of false starts the field got away leaving Albair and Newton Bell at the post. Corrier, the favorite, forced his way to the front and the flashing green of jockey Rooney's habit did not mingle with the rainbow colors of those less fortunately mounted. J. Patrick harnessed to Corrier for an eighth of the distance and was an undisputed second until within hailing distance when Olea put length to her stride and nosed him out of it. The finish:

Corrier, ch. g., by Imp. Albert, dam Critic, S. Johnson 1
Olea, blk. m., by Lampighter, dam Miss Olive, R. B. Allen 2
J. Patrick, b. g., by Imp. Hardington, dam, Palmroeto, G. Upton 3
Time—50 seconds. Applejack, Mary Talbot, Keystone and Miss Lee also ran.

Three-Quarter-Mile Dash

A bunch of seven got away in short order at the 3/4 pole with Patchwork, another favorite leading. Grace was straining every nerve to do a chariot race with the chestnut, but her ambition was better than her ability and before the first turn there was plenty of daylight between the two. Jerry Black was a competitor by the time the field was in full swing and there was a pretty race down the stretch for second money. It was a whipping finish, and a "hook" nose poked under the wire, when fractions of seconds counted, was all the advantage Jerry had over the daughter of Syntax for second place, Grace finishing an easy third.

Buchler 3
Time—1:17 3/4. Barney Saal, McClary, Jim Boland and Urganda also ran.

Lima House Derby.

There was but one horse in the derby, so far as first honors were concerned. Tom Cure, big enough for the stud, but with muscle and wind to spare, led the advance and gave the field his dust from wire to wire on the double circuit. He set the pace for Ada Russell, but she was only in it for a period too brief to be considered even a factor. Gexell, a 50 to 1 shot at Wapakoneta, where she won the dash, was played for a place and there were a few wise ones with their money entered. The gelding dragged Sir Kenneth in the stretch with him, coming from well in the rear, and both horses had enough track left to overcome Ada Russell and put her behind the purse.

The time keepers caught the mile at 1:13 3/4, a quarter of a second faster than the state record and the announcement was greeted with applause.

Tom Cure, b. g., by Stuyvesant, dam Serpolette, H. Cheek 1
Lexell, b. g., by Free Knight, dam Fauna III, G. H. Miles 2
Sir Kenneth II, ch. g., by Kenneth, dam, Morca, W. D. Jones 3
Time—1:43 3/4. Nina B. L. Forbearance, Ada Russell and Julietta B also ran.

Five-Eighths Mile in Heats.

Previous to the first heat of the last race word was sent the judges that there were signs of a conspiracy, and that a jockey combination had been effected to drive in the winner. The riders were given a word of warning and a close watch kept on their movements but nothing developed to strengthen suspicions. Amy Lee was on the boards at 4 to 1 and the play was so heavy that she was brought up to even money. She won the heat, hotly pursued by Oricius, but the black wasn't able to catch her.

A strong kick was registered but the judges decided the race as it was finished. That their judgment was correct in the first instance was proven when Amy Lee won the second heat after a fierce whipping drive down the home stretch. Oricius clinging to her flanks. The horses finished in the same position both heats, Johnny Brown being an undisputed third.

Amy Lee, b. m., owned by W. Glendonning, of Gallipolis 1

Eight-Years-Old Boy Got His Foot Caught in the Crossing

And the Member was Crushed by Wheels of a Passenger Train—Statistics from the County Clerk's Office.

Two separate damage suits against the C. H. & D. were filed this morning but both are based on the same accident, the injured party being Jasper N. Davis, the 8-year-old son of Lewis C. Davis.

The petitions were prepared by Richie, Leiland & Roby, the one in which the child is plaintiff making a demand for $25,000, and the one in which the father claims extra damages being for $10,000. The accident occurred at the Vine street crossing May 28, 1902, when master Jasper Davis, while attempting to cross got his right foot caught in a hole in the planking, from which position he was unable to extract himself before an approaching passenger train struck him.

The boy's foot was crushed beneath the wheels and so badly mangled that it had to be amputated at the ankle.

The company is held responsible for the defect in the plank crossing and also for violating the ordinance limiting the speed of trains to six miles an hour. The declaration is made that if the train had been approaching at the speed to which the ordinance limits it the engine could have been stopped before the accident occurred. The damages asked for by the father of the crippled boy is to repay him for the extra expense he will be put to in giving his son the education he will need to assist him through the world.

IMMENSE THROG

Last Night. The City Being Stirred.

At the big tent a multitude gathered last night and listened with breathless interest. Preachers Updike, Easton, Sims, Gallant, Rudy, Vertaer, Brundage and others were present. The chorus tests the capacity of the platform. One half hour before preaching every chair was taken. The south Lima church of Christ is being greatly helped by Bros. Updike and Easton.

"How be Converted?" was the topic. "If I should say," said the evangelist, "that God converted me, all the orthodox would say, amen! The same is true of Christ. We are converted by him and by the spirit of God and by the gospel and by the preacher. But were I to say a man converts himself some would object and yet Peter said 'Save yourselves from this untoward generation' (Acts 2.) so a man saves himself by accepting and obeying the terms."

"The first agency is the Holy Spirit. (Jno. 16, 7-14) also (14, 17-26) of the Holy Spirit which relates, 1st Christ, 2nd the apostles, 3d the church, 4th the world. First Christ says,—"He shall be as witness of me", "He shall glorify me." To the apostles, "He shall teach you all things and bring to your remembrance all things I said unto you," "He shall guide you into all truth," "He shall declare unto you the things that are to come" To the church (Jno. 7-38, 39). To the world—"He will convict of sin of righteousness and judgment," an advocate of Jesus, a revealer of the truth, a reprover of the world. He began his work on the day of pentecost, using the organs of speech of the apostles to do the work. The gospel of Christ is said to be "The ministration of the spirit, the law of the spirit."

Death neither vacated apostolic office nor terminated their ministry on earth but today they speak through God's word and spirit through them and it. The agency of every faithful preacher is to proclaim it for it is the word of the spirit. The agency of all its individual membership and Christ says "Lo! I am with you always even to the end of the world." The agency of the sinner himself is to hear, believe, repent, confess Christ and obey Him."

Tonight's theme is "The Instrument of Conversion." Tent on south Main street, between Kibby and Circular. Cars stop at tent.
